

OFFBEAT

EVERY TURN'S AN ALL PLAY!

OFFBEAT is a party game where music is the prompt, not the test – no musical knowledge required.

Players take turns as the Headliner, choosing a “Gig” that sets how play unfolds. Using song titles, lyrics, and images, everyone responds – bending meanings, inventing inspirations, or making unexpected connections – and a single judge decides what lands that turn.

Across four distinct Gigs, players choose how to play based on the cards they’re holding or the strengths they want to lean into. Some Gigs reward wit or storytelling, others instinct, interpretation, or pure audacity. No single skill dominates – the game shifts to suit the people at the table, which is why every group plays it differently.
